Hi Tom,

We took a look at it and, as you said, it does seem like a simple modification. The enhanced drainage control is a plus. According to our regulations (43 CFR 3809.432(b) ), BLM can accept minor mine plan modifications without formal approval if they are consistent with the approved plan of operations and do not constitute a substantive change. This modification seems like it fits that category, so we have no issues with approval.

Hope all is well with you!

Marie

Marie,

Have you approved this or even looked at it? I am ready to approve. It is a simple modification and it incorporates enhanced drainage control. Tom
